

We move humanity through employee expertise and motion control solutions.

Depatie is a comprehensive motion and control distributor serving both mobile and industrial markets. As one of Parker Hannifin's premier partners, we are proud to be recognized as a Certified Technology Center—an elite designation that reflects our expertise not only in Parker's core technologies such as Hydraulics, Pneumatics, and Fluid Connectors, but also in advanced areas like Mobile Electrification and Electronics Integration. Our ability to coordinate and supply products across all Parker divisions, along with a wide range of vendor partnerships, enables us to deliver complete and dependable solutions to our customers.

Beyond distribution, Depatie specializes in the design and development of custom-engineered systems tailored to our customers' specific needs. Whether assembling a solution using components from our expansive supplier network or innovating a completely custom product. We bring together technical knowledge and practical experience to deliver performance-driven, cost-effective, and fully integrated solutions.
